The Art Director

The Art Director is the production designer's second-in-command. They're a field general, who organizes and manages the rest of the art department film crew to get the job done.

Depending on the size of the production, the Art Director may wear many hats. For that reason, it's not uncommon for professional art directors to have developed a wide range of capabilities within their field. In general, however, Art Director movie set jobs are mostly concerned with supervisory responsibilities.

On larger productions, Art Directors typically have several Assistant Art Directors working below them.
