Hello dear diary, how have you been? Hope you're doing good. I think I'm also doing quite good. Like not too good or too bad. Just how it should be. From now on I'll call you as Angel. You know it's awkward to call you just as a 'diary'. So Angel it's getting late. Good night for today.

Aren't we all starving for perfection? Like good grades, a high-paying job, a big house or an expensive car; we're all starving for perfection. We were taught that life is all about Success. But does success mean Happiness? No it doesn't. Happiness is how you see life and live it. Perfection is Illusion.

ABSTRACT

The study, conducted by the Department of Sociology at Kamargaon College on 14th November 2023, focuses on evaluating child care centre in Bokakhat, a semi-urban area in Assam. The primary objectives were to assess the quality of child care services, evaluate the impact on child development etc. The study employed a mixed-method approach, including Interviews, Direct Observation, and Focus group discussions. The research revealed a significant disparity in the quality of child care services provided across different centres. While some centres were well-equipped with trained staff and adequate facilities, others lacked basic amenities such as proper sanitation, clean drinking water, and educational materials. The high teacher-to-child ratio in many centres resulted in insufficient attention to individual children, affecting their overall development.

Children attending better-equipped centres demonstrated positive cognitive, social, and emotional development, while those in less resourced centres showed lower levels of engagement and progress. Parental involvement was generally positive, with many expressing satisfaction with the availability of child services. However, concerns were raised about the safety, hygiene, and lack of developmental activities in some centres. The study identified key challenges faced by the child care centre, including financial constraints, lack of government support, and difficulties in retaining trained staff due to low salaries and limited professional development opportunities.

The findings highlight the urgent need for government intervention to standardize and improve the quality of child care services in Bokakhat. Recommendations include infrastructure development, capacity building for staff, and increased community awareness about the importance of quality child care in early childhood development. This study aims to contribute to the enhancement of child care services, ultimately improving the well-being and development of children in the region.

METHODOLOGY

The field study on child care centre in Bokakhat was conducted using a mixed-method approach, incorporating both qualitative and quantitative research techniques to ensure a comprehensive understanding of the subject.

Survey: The survey focused on gathering data about the socio-economic background of families, their satisfaction with the services, and their perceptions of the impact on their children's development.

Interviews: In-depth interviews were conducted with key stakeholders, including the administrators, teachers, and support staff at the child care centre. These interviews aimed to uncover the operational challenges faced by the centres, as well as the strategies they employ to manage these challenges.

Observation: Direct observation was employed to assess the physical environment of the child care centre, including infrastructure, safety standards, and the daily activities provided for children. Observations were also made on the interactions between staff and children to evaluate the quality of care.

Focus Group Discussions: FGDs were conducted with the administrations, teachers, and also with the support staff to know about their experiences and concerns regarding the child care services. This method provided deeper insights into community perceptions and the social dynamics influencing child care choices.

These combined methodologies provided a well-rounded perspective on the state care services in Bokakhat.

INTRODUCTION

Child care centres play a crucial role in early childhood development, providing essential services that support both children and their families. In regions like Bokakhat, a semi-urban area in Assam, these centres are particularly important due to the socio-economic dynamics that often necessitate both parents working outside the home. Despite the critical role of child care centres, there is a significant variability in the quality and accessibility of these services, which can have profound implications on the development of children and well-being of families.

The Department of Sociology at Kamargaon College undertook a field study on 14th November 2023 to explore the state of child care centres in Bokakhat. The study was motivated by the need to understand how these centres function, the challenges they serve. Bokakhat, with its mix of rural and urban characteristics, provides a unique context for this study, offering insights into the broader issues faced by child care centres in similar semi-urban settings across India.

The objectives of this study were multifaceted. First, it aimed to assess the availability and quality of child care services in Bokakhat, examining how well these centres are equipped to understand the socio-economic background of the families who rely on these services, as this often influences the type of care they centre on the cognitive, social, and emotional development of children, which are study aimed to identify the challenges faced by child care providers, including financial, infrastructural, and human resource constraints.

OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDY

1. To assess the availability and quality of child care services in Bokaakhat.
2. To understand the socio-economic background of the families utilizing these services.
3. To evaluate the impact of these centre on child development
4. To identify the challenges faced by child care centre in providing quality services.

The Producer (not to be confused with financier)

The Producer is one of the most fundamental of all film set roles. It's one of many film crew job titles that can carry any part of a wide range of responsibilities, but, primarily, producers are responsible for securing funding, setting a project into motion, and providing high level organizational guidelines.

In other words, without a solid producer (or team of producers), there would be no movie.

To,

North Eastern Knowledge Foundation (NEKF) and founded in the year 2012 by the Khetan Industrial Group. The social sensitivity and responsible entrepreneurship of both the groups have helped them to imbibe a culture of proeducation in their endeavour and give back the knowledge and experience to the society that they have gathered over years of service to the nation.

Concept Note:

South Asia refers to a group of nation states bounded by a geographical commonality or contiguity and is connected through historical, cultural, linguistic, ethnic, and civilizational linkages. It also refers to an institutionalised form of mechanism of regional co-operation. Constituted of the nations including India, Bangladesh, Nepal, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Bhutan, Maldives, and Afghanistan, the region is presently home to over 1.9 billion people and is one of the most-heavily populated regions in the globe. Interestingly, the region boasts of a large number of young population and, as estimates have suggested, more than 35% population in South Asia comes under the age of 18. The region can cash in this demographic dividend for all-round development and acceleration of sustainable economic activities. However, it needs to be kept in mind that the region has remained one of the poorest in the world, with more than 30% of the population, as the World Bank suggests, still living under the international poverty line. To cash in the democratic dividend at its fullest and bridge the gaps, higher education in these nations can play a big role and create multifarious opportunities.

In the region, countries are largely agricultural economies, and approximately 70% of the total population live in rural areas. However, the nations are forging a path towards the direction of the growth of their industry and services sectors. The region is also vulnerable to natural disasters and has witnessed in the recent times various sorts of political instabilities, internal conflicts, and security concerns. All the nations of the region fall under developing and least-developed countries and have confronted several challenges in areas such as education, infrastructure, and health. Compared to global averages, the region is lagging behind education output and has not been able to meet the demands of time owing to the particular challenges associated with the production of skilled workforce. Against this backdrop, the role of the higher education has proved critical in facilitating a skilled, competitive, and knowledgeable workforce for growth, investment, and development of all sorts.

In fact, demand for higher education in the nations of the region is on the rise, and it has increasingly brought forth the necessity for relevant policy interventions from concerned authorities as well as quality assurance mechanism. South Asian universities have constantly ranked poor on global rankings and are marred in numerous shortcomings. Poor employability of the graduates and the worrying disconnect between market requirement and curriculum along with bureaucratic hurdles, low female representation, and political interventions have plagued the higher education sector in these nations. Therefore, higher education has emerged as an area of priority in South Asia in the current century and has invited a great urgency of institutional reform and re-evaluation. The two-day conference seeks to address the changing dynamics of higher education in the South Asian nations against the stated backdrop and endeavours to unearth the various dimensions by providing a necessary platform to the academicians, researchers, students and media persons as well for fruitful deliberation.

Kamargaon college more than two stream arts and science. But college only one stream arts.

I have no any suggestions, the development of the institution is too good!

No doubt this college has all the facilities but if it will have a boy's hostel that will be well and good.

Suggestions:

1. To provide computer courses properly.
2. To provide ICT based learning in regular classroom.
3. Encourage the students to participate cocurricular activities and competitive examination.

Everyone should continue to do well

Addition of diverse minds and manpower

Digital class room

needed Higher facilities

Digital class room

Devloped to the digital classroom.

Needed ncc course

Firstly, I want to say that our college is perfect to study. There professor are good however I want to suggest about the library, Store some extra books.

Lots off good wishes for the prestigious college.

One indoor stadium

It should be a available teacher in subject wise....ect

Toilet should more hygenic.

career counseling session for future settlement

Infrastructure development, avail sports facilities

Very strong and good teacher

NCC added in the college

College can organization seminar,group studies, field studies, internship or clubs where student can join to expand thier knowledge.what student learn some of the things in the class allow them also apply into something practical..

I am proud to have student hostels on campus. Where girls are protected and better education is seen than ever before. That's my feeling.

Introduce professional course like BSW, and any other

The college should focus on teaching modern education.

More focus on research activities; student &teacher collaboration. Incorporating split classroom and digital classroom learning. More events on career counselling.

We will give to important cultureral,letareture, sports .

Setup an indoor stadium

Everything is really very good.. and my suggestion for the institution is that please keep growing greenery and friendly environment for everyone's
